COURSE CONTENT: Topics covered will include Cardiorespiratory Fitness, Muscular Strength and Endurance, Flexibility, Body Composition, Nutrition, Weight Management, Stress, and other topics of interest as time allows. These topics will be covered through lecture, group discussions, laboratory experiences, and personalized writings.

COURSE EXPECTATIONS: All assignments have due dates, nothing will be accepted after its due date, no exceptions. There will likely be additional, unannounced in-class activities/assignments; therefore, it is critical that you attend regularly. Points earned for in-class assignments cannot be made up due to unexcused absences. If you are absent and an outside assignment is given, it is your responsibility to contact the instructor to find out what the assignment is. If you are absent on the day of an exam, you must schedule an alternate time with the instructor to make up the exam within the following week.

Electronic devices are NOT allowed to be in use during the class period unless permission has been granted by the instructor. Please be courteous to others in the class by placing your cell phone in silent/vibrate mode when entering the classroom.

ATTENDANCE: You should plan to attend every class, be on time, and stay the entire class period. Attendance is EXPECTED and will be taken at each class meeting. If you are absent, you will be unable to make up points that were earned in class. If you have informed the instructor prior to missing class, you may be able to make up the points earned in class depending on the nature of the activity/assignment. It is the responsibility of the student to inform the instructor of absences for illness, family emergencies, and university-sponsored events, etc. Students are responsible for verifying excused absences by providing written documentation regarding the absence. If you miss class, it is your responsibility to notify the instructor no later than the next class period.
