

Master of Science in Technology Degree Cohort Program in Chicago

The School of Technology

Eastern Illinois University (EIU)

The School of Technology is pleased to announce a plan to deliver a cohort Master of Science in Technology graduate degree program to serve the needs of teachers and other professionals in the Chicago area. The following provides some basic information on the program design.

1. Everyone in the cohort program will take the same courses every semester and complete the degree at the same time.
2. The cohort program uses the same curriculum design and quality standards as the on-campus degree program.
3. All classes except a final presentation will meet in Eastern Illinois University Oak Brook Center, 1010 Jorie Blvd, Suite 200, Oak Brook, IL 60523.
4. Courses will be delivered by our faculty with graduate faculty qualifications from EIU.
5. A typical class will meet for one whole (alternate) Saturday. Students will do their project/homework/other assignments for one week through Internet. A typical three (3) hour course will meet three (3) alternate Saturdays, and complete in a six-week period.

Tentative Schedule for Fall 2010 Cohort Program

Course	Semester
TEC 5173 Global Technology (3 Credit Hours)	Fall 2010
TEC 5133 Total Quality Systems (3 Credit Hours)	Fall 2010
TEC 5143 Research in Technology (3 Credit Hours)	Spring 2011
TEC5103 Science and Technology of Leadership (3 Credit Hours)	Spring 2011
TEC 5970 Design for Manufacturing (3 Credit Hours)	Summer 2011
INT 4970 Managing Technology Projects (3 Credit Hours)	Summer 2011

INT 4970 Lean Operation (3 Credit Hours)	Fall 2011
TEC 5343 Multimedia and Web Technology (3 Credit Hours)	Fall 2011
TEC 5523 Systems Simulation (3 Credit Hours)	Spring 2012
TEC 5723 Issues and Trends in Technology (3 Credit Hours)	Spring 2012
TEC 5970 Diffusion of Innovation (3 Credit Hours)	Summer 2012
TEC 5970 Independent Study in Lieu of Thesis (1 Credit Hour)	Fall 2012 (A Presentation at EIU)
Graduation	Fall 2012

For program inquiry, please contact:

Peter Ping Liu, Ph D, OCP, PE, CQE and CSIT
 Professor and Coordinator of Graduate Study
 School of Technology
 Eastern Illinois University
 600 E. Lincoln Avenue
 Charleston, IL 61920
 (217)581-6267
 Fax: (217)581-6607
<http://www.eiu.edu/~tech/Grad/index.php>