

Landscapes In Your Life

Landscapes are all around us, from your backyard, to fields and forests, and even the town you live in. Think about where you live and the world around your home. What makes up the landscape around your home? What kind of landscapes do you encounter on the way to school? How about when you travel to a friend's house or when visiting relatives? Pick the landscape which is most important to you, draw it below, and explain why this landscape matters to you and the important features in it.

A large, empty rectangular box with a thin black border, intended for a student to draw a landscape and write an explanation. The box occupies the lower two-thirds of the page.
