

Yum! Yuck! by Linda Sue Park and Julia Durango

Language arts:

Research ten common words (or phrases) from a language you would like to learn. Have children draw a picture representing that word or phrase and then post the language and its translation below it.

Geography:

On a world map identify the countries from where the languages originate in the book.

Music:

(Sing this song to the tune “If you’re happy and you know it”)

If it tastes good in Germany say Keckah!

If it tastes good in Denmark say Nam-nam!

If it tastes really good and you really want to say it

If it tastes really good in Iran say Bah-Bah!

If it’s funny in Korea say Hee-hee-hee

If it’s funny in Poland say Hi! Hi! Hi!

If it really is funny and you really want to say it

If it’s funny in China say Huh! -huh!

If there’s a boo-boo in Yoruba say Oh-gah!

If there’s a boo-boo in Japan say Oo-wah!

If there’s a really big boo boo and you really want to say it

If there’s a boo boo in Spain then say Ay!

(As a class, create the other verses.)
