

Holiday Ideas from the Student Reading Council

December 1, 2009

Merry Christmas from St. Mary's School http://www.fvsd.ab.ca/stm/christmas_sites.htm
This web site has a wealth of information for the Holidays!

Christmas Goodies for Teachers <http://www.kiddyhouse.com/Christmas/xmasteacher.html>
This website has a lot of resources, but be careful some of the links were not active.

TeachersFirst's Christmas Resources <http://www.teachersfirst.com/holiday/christmas.cfm>
This web site is a link to the TeachersFirst.com web site. There are a wide variety of lesson plans, etc.

I Love That Teaching Idea Website http://www.ilovethatteachingidea.com/ideas/subj_holidays.htm
This is the Holiday Ideas page from the I Love ... website. A lot of ideas!

The Teacher's Corner.net <http://www.theteacherscorner.net/>
This website is very useful for teachers. Select Seasonal Items from the menu on the right. Then select December Events. Then scroll down until you see the calendar. Each day of the month has ideas linked to that date.

Read-Write-Think.org <http://www.readwritethink.org/>
This website is sponsored by the International Reading Association and The National Council of Teachers of English. In the menu along the top of the page, select Search. Then you can narrow your search and find activities related to Christmas. You will also notice that there is a calendar. The calendar has information about events that have happened in December and people that were born in December.
