PART II: ASSURANCE OF STUDENT LEARNING

1. List the student learning objectives of this course:

- a. If this is a general education course, indicate which objectives are designed to help students achieve one or more of the following goals of general education and university-wide assessment:
- EIU graduates will write and speak effectively.
 - EIU graduates will think critically.
 - EIU graduates will function as responsible citizens.

Through readings, lecture, assignments and active class participation, students will

- a. examine emerging issues facing school counselors.
- b. examine the effects of (a) atypical growth and development, (b) health and wellness, (c) language, (d) ability level, (e) multicultural issues, and (f) factors of resiliency on student learning and development.
- c. discuss the impact of Special Education law on the practice of school counseling
- d. identify how to engage parents, guardians, and families to promote the academic, career, and personal/social development of students.

- b. If this is a graduate-level course, indicate which objectives are designed to help students achieve established goals for learning at the graduate level:
- Depth of content knowledge
(objectives a-d)
 - Effective critical thinking and problem solving
 - Effective oral and written communication
 - Advanced scholarship through research or creative activity

2. Identify the assignments/activities the instructor will use to determine how well students attained the learning objectives:

a. Students will examine emerging issues facing school counselors.	Data Analysis Group Project
b. Students will examine the effects of (a) atypical growth and development, (b) health and wellness, (c) language, (d) ability level, (e) multicultural issues, and (f) factors of resiliency on student learning and development.	Research Paper
c. Students will discuss the impact of Special Education law specifically related to the practice of school counseling	Exam
d. Students will identify how to engage parents, guardians, and families to promote the academic, career, and personal/social development of students.	Technique Presentation

- Research Paper: Each student will write a 10 page typed research paper discussing a school's Illinois Interactive Report Card and draw a connection between the findings and the various factors that can impact student learning.
- Technique Presentation: Students will present on a technique or strategy to engage parents, guardians and/or families related to advocacy on behalf of their children.
- Data Analysis Group Project: Along with 2-4 other class members, you will participate in a group that will investigate the school and individual data. Projects teams will complete a 10 page paper and present on deficit area and/or emerging issues within their school.
- Exam: There will be an exam over the Special Education material.

3. Explain how the instructor will determine students' grades for the course:

Grades will be based on the following criteria:

Research Paper	25%
Technique Presentation	25%
Data Analysis Group Project	25%
Exam	25%

- 4. For technology-delivered and other nontraditional-delivered courses/sections, address the following: N/A
- a. Describe how the format/technology will be used to support and assess students' achievement of the specified learning objectives:
 - b. Describe how the integrity of student work will be assured:
 - c. Describe provisions for and requirements of instructor-student and student-student interaction, including the kinds of technologies that will be used to support the interaction (e.g., e-mail, web-based discussions, computer conferences, etc.):

14	Factors that impact academic, career and personal/social development of students.
15	Working with parents, guardians, families and communities to empower them to act on behalf of their children
16	Presentation of papers.

PART IV: PURPOSE AND NEED

1. Explain the department’s rationale for developing and proposing the course.

This is a required course for the M.S. in Counseling. It is also a competency required for continued accreditation by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP).

- a. If this is a general education course, you also must indicate the segment of the general education program into which it will be placed, and describe how the course meets the requirements of that segment.
- b. If the course or some sections of the course may be technology delivered, explain why.

2. Justify the level of the course and any course prerequisites, co-requisites, or registration restrictions.

This is a required course for the M.S. in Counseling. It is also a competency required for continued accreditation by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). Pre-requisites ensure proper preparation for higher level counseling practice in the field.

3. If the course is similar to an existing course or courses, justify its development and offering.
 - a. If the contents substantially duplicate those of an existing course, the new proposal should be discussed with the appropriate chairpersons, deans, or curriculum committees and their responses noted in the proposal. None at graduate level.
 - b. Cite course(s) to be deleted if the new course is approved. If no deletions are planned, note the exceptional need to be met or the curricular gap to be filled. CACREP standards, Alternative Certification standards and Departmental Assessment results indicated the need for this course.
4. Impact on Program(s):
 - a. For undergraduate programs, specify whether this course will be required for a major or minor or used as an approved elective.
 - b. For graduate programs, specify whether this course will be a core requirement for all candidates in a degree or certificate program or an approved elective.
Required for graduate students admitted to M.S. in Counseling in the Department of Counseling and Student Development.

If the proposed course changes a major, minor, or certificate program in or outside of the department, you must submit a separate proposal requesting that change along with the course proposal. Provide a copy of the existing program in the current catalog with the requested changes noted.

PART V: IMPLEMENTATION

1. Faculty member(s) to whom the course may be assigned:

Qualified Graduate Faculty in the Department of Counseling and Student Development.

2. Additional costs to students:

Include those for supplemental packets, hardware/software, or any other additional instructional technical, or technological requirements. (Course fees must be approved by the President's Council.)

No additional costs to students.

3. Text and supplementary materials to be used (Include publication dates):

Trolley, B.C., Haas, H.S., & Patti, D.C. (2009). The school counselor's guide to special education. Corwin press.

Dimmitt, C, Carey, J.C., Hatch, T. (2007). Evidence-based school counseling: Making a difference with data-driven practices. Corwin press

PART VI: COMMUNITY COLLEGE TRANSFER

If the proposed course is a 1000- or 2000-level course, state either, "A community college course may be judged equivalent to this course" OR "A community college course will not be judged equivalent to this course." A community college course will not be judged equivalent to a 3000- or 4000-level course but may be accepted as a substitute; however, upper-division credit will not be awarded.

PART VII: APPROVALS

Date approved by the department or school: 1/18/2012

Date approved by the college curriculum committee: 4/2/2012

Date approved by the Honors Council (if this is an honors course):

Date approved by CAA: CGS:

*In writing-active courses, frequent, brief writing activities and assignments are required. Such activities -- some of which are to be graded -- might include five-minute in-class writing assignments, journal keeping, lab reports, essay examinations, short papers, longer papers, or a variety of other writing-to-learn activities of the instructor's invention. Writing assignments and activities in writing-active courses are designed primarily to assist students in mastering course content, secondarily to strengthen students' writing skills. In writing-intensive courses, several writing assignments and writing activities are required. These assignments and activities, which are to be spread over the course of the semester, serve the dual purpose of strengthening writing skills and deepening understanding of course content. At least one writing assignment is to be revised by the student after it has been read and commented on by the instructor. In writing-intensive courses, students' writing should constitute no less than 35% of the final course grade. In writing-centered courses (English 1001G, English 1002G, and their honors equivalents), students learn the principles and the process of writing in all of its stages, from inception to completion. The quality of students' writing is the principal determinant of the course grade. The minimum writing requirement is 20 pages (5,000 words).
