PART III: OUTLINE OF THE COURSE

Provide a week-by-week outline of the course's content. Specify units of time (e.g., for a 3-0-3 course, 45 fifty-minute class periods over 15 weeks) for each major topic in the outline. Provide clear and sufficient details about content and procedures so that possible questions of overlap with other courses can be addressed. For technology-delivered or other nontraditional-delivered courses/sections, explain how the course content "units" are sufficiently equivalent to the traditional on-campus semester hour units of time described above.

This is an example of a 0-3-3 course as taught as a one-week (Monday-Saturday) intensive studio lab; students meet 6.25 hours each day. Final projects are due by the end of the 8-week summer session.

Day	Session	Activity
1	1	How to introduce, approach, and work with live model.
	2	Session: Drawing from a live model.
2	1	Introduction of the materials that are going to be used during the class.
	2	Session: Drawing from a live model.

3	1	Working with proportion.
	2	Continuation of the morning session.
4	1	Critique of proportion drawings and a demonstration of media concepts.
	2	Session: Drawing from a live model. Students develop a figure-drawing exhibition along with its publicity and opening reception.
5	1	Critique on the use of media and the figure. Demonstration of creating a finished work of art.
	2	Session: Drawing from a live model. Critique of finished artwork. Presentations and discussion of various artistic methodologies.
6	1	Create an original work based on the researched artist technique.
	2	Critique of finished work. Students set up the exhibition and reception. Students learn how to disassemble a show after it closes.
By end of summer session		Digital submission of final portfolio.

PART IV: PURPOSE AND NEED

1. Explain the department's rationale for developing and proposing the course.

Art 5613 could be taken to fulfill three of the six hours of studio art required for the MA in Art with Art Education Option and MA in Art with Community Art Option. This course is a one-week, on-campus graduate-level studio art course designed to address the specific needs of students most likely to pursue these degree options. Most will be non-traditional students with limited ability to come to campus for the six- or eight-week summer sessions because they live more than an hour's drive from Charleston plus they have employment and family responsibilities. A one-week intensive studio course with the opportunity to complete a final project or portfolio of artwork by end of the summer session aids their timely completion of degree requirements.

- a. If this is a general education course, you also must indicate the segment of the general education program into which it will be placed, and describe how the course meets the requirements of that segment.
- b. If the course or some sections of the course may be technology delivered, explain why.

2. Justify the level of the course and any course prerequisites, co-requisites, or registration restrictions.

Art 5613 shall be a graduate-level art studio course and students are expected to complete graduate-level coursework. Prerequisites provide student has adequate undergraduate art training to perform at a graduate level.

3. If the course is similar to an existing course or courses, justify its development and offering.

This course is not similar to any existing course.

- a. If the contents substantially duplicate those of an existing course, the new proposal should be discussed with the appropriate chairpersons, deans, or curriculum committees and their responses noted in the proposal.
- b. Cite course(s) to be deleted if the new course is approved. If no deletions are planned, note the exceptional need to be met or the curricular gap to be filled.

4. Impact on Program(s):

- a. For undergraduate programs, specify whether this course will be required for a major or minor or used as an approved elective.
- b. For graduate programs, specify whether this course will be a core requirement for all candidates in a degree or certificate program or an approved elective.

Art 5613 is an approved elective course for the Master of Arts in Art with Art Education Option or the Master of Arts in Art with Community Arts Option.

If the proposed course changes a major, minor, or certificate program in or outside of the department, you must submit a separate proposal requesting that change along with the course proposal. Provide a copy of the existing program in the current catalog with the requested changes noted.

PART V: IMPLEMENTATION

1. Faculty member(s) to whom the course may be assigned:

Ke-Hsin Jenny Chi or other qualified graduate studio art faculty.

If this is a graduate course and the department does not currently offer a graduate program, it must document that it employs faculty qualified to teach graduate courses.

2. Additional costs to students:

Student costs for the course would vary depending on the media used. Costs would range from approximately $100.00 to 300.00.

Include those for supplemental packets, hardware/software, or any other additional instructional, technical, or technological requirements. (Course fees must be approved by the President's Council.)

3. Text and supplementary materials to be used (Include publication dates):

Current issues of art periodicals (e.g. Art in America, Art News, American Artist), art books in Booth Library, and Internet sources.

PART VI: COMMUNITY COLLEGE TRANSFER

If the proposed course is a 1000- or 2000-level course, state either, "A community college course may be judged equivalent to this course" OR "A community college course will not be judged equivalent to this course." A community college course will not be judged equivalent to a 3000- or 4000-level course but may be accepted as a substitute; however, upper-division credit will not be awarded.

PART VII: APPROVALS

Date approved by the department or school: March 1, 2013

Date approved by the college curriculum committee: March 27, 2013

Date approved by the Honors Council (if this is an honors course):

Date approved by CAA: CGS:

*In writing-active courses, frequent, brief writing activities and assignments are required. Such activities -- some of which are to be graded -- might include five-minute in-class writing assignments, journal keeping, lab reports, essay examinations, short papers, longer papers, or a variety of other writing-to-learn activities of the instructor's invention. Writing assignments and activities in writing-active courses are designed primarily to assist students in mastering course content, secondarily to strengthen students' writing skills. In writing-intensive courses, several writing assignments and writing activities are required. These assignments and activities, which are to be spread over the course of the semester, serve the dual purpose of strengthening writing skills and deepening understanding of course content. At least one writing assignment is to be revised by the student after it has been read and commented on by the instructor. In writing-intensive courses, students' writing should constitute no less than 35% of the final course grade. In writing-centered courses (English 1001G, English 1002G, and their honors equivalents), students learn the principles and the process of writing in all of its stages, from inception to completion. The quality of students' writing is the principal determinant of the course grade. The minimum writing requirement is 20 pages (5,000 words).
