Proposal: To eliminate MAT/GRE and 3-6 page paper requirements

Effective Immediately

Current Catalog Copy:

Special Education

Program Mission: The graduate major in Special Education program mission is to prepare graduates for advanced professional practice with individuals with exceptional learning needs. Individuals may pursue additional endorsements which may include earning a supervisory endorsement, earning an LBS II for "Curriculum Adaptation Specialist" or "Behavior Intervention Specialist," or preparing to be a "Director" of Special Education.

Admission Requirements: To be eligible for degree candidacy, applicants must meet all of the requirements for admission to the Graduate School (see "Admission to Graduate Degree and Certificate Programs"). In addition, the student must provide the following documents:

- Official transcripts to the department and university documenting all prior course work and evidence of having earned a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution approved by Eastern Illinois University with a cumulative undergraduate grade point average (GPA) of 2.75 on a 4.0 scale or a 2.75 GPA for the last 60 hours of graded academic coursework as defined by the Graduate School. If these standards are not met, the student may complete nine semester hours of graduate level courses in the department with a grade point average of 3.3 or higher.
- Two letters of recommendation which must address the student's potential to engage successfully in graduate study. One letter should document experience with children or adults with exceptionalities such as teaching, student teaching volunteer work, private or public agency experience.

- Official admission test scores (GRE, MAT, or GMAT).
- A written statement of future professional goals minimally one paragraph in length.
- A three-to-five page position paper, literature review, or research paper. The paper must be submitted in a format consistent with the most recent edition of the American Psychological Association Publication Manual and include a minimum of five references.
- Dispositional check sheet representing candidate dispositions for advanced practice.

These documents will be considered as the advisor and student formulate a study plan that will include the student's professional goals, extent of experience with individuals with exceptionalities, and the students' professional writing competencies.

Degree Audit: The graduate plan of study is the EIU Degree Audit, which is generated automatically in the Degree Audit Reporting System (DARS) at the time of degree or certificate candidacy. Modifications of the standard EIU Degree Audit are submitted by the graduate coordinator to the certification officer in the Graduate School at the time modifications are approved. The Degree Audit serves as an unofficial summary of requirements for the program. Degree and certificate candidates are advised to review the comprehensive summary of the Degree Audit process specified on the "Requirements for All Degree and Certificate Candidates" section of the Graduate Catalog. Individual programs may require candidates to submit plans of study in addition to the Degree Audit, candidates should consult with the program coordinator.

Rationale for online delivery:

Eastern's Graduate mission included developing opportunities for the discovery and application of knowledge with graduate faculty who reflect the University's teaching and mentoring priority and who have a record of research/creative activity and professional service.

Provision of the Special Education Masters Program online will provide opportunities for practicing licensed Special Educators to access graduate education across the State of Illinois and beyond. Currently no state supported universities provide a Masters in Special Education online. The online format will make the Masters with major in Special Education accessible to geographically underserved areas and to special educators for whom taking courses on campus is not realistic. It also provides that graduates of the undergraduate EIU Special Education Program have the opportunity to continue to enhance their knowledge base and be further mentored as they mature as professionals by faculty with whom they have a relationship from an institution they already value, EIU.

The GRE/MAT has been required since the inception of the Special Education graduate major. No minimum scores have been applied. Multiple tests are now required prior to licensure; our M.S. requires licensure. It is perceived continuing to require a score that is not being used in a meaningful way serves as a deterrent for prospective candidates.

Across the set of special education courses, masters candidates write numerous papers. The 3-6 page paper for application purposes has not provided meaningful insights into candidate's ability to be successful in the major.
