

LUMPKIN COLLEGE OF BUSINESS AND APPLIED SCIENCES
EXECUTIVE ACTION REQUEST

TO: Mary Hennig, Certification Officer
FROM: Mikki Sherwood, PhD, SFCS Assistant Chairperson
DATE: March 28, 2015

ACTION REQUESTED:

Drop the restrictions limiting the class to the MS in FCS online cohort; open enrollment in Implications of Childhood Obesity (FCS 5158) to all MS in FCS and MS in Nutrition and Dietetic students.

RATIONALE:

In an effort to be more inclusive of all FCS students (not just the MS in FCS teacher cohort), we request that the restriction of MS in FCS teacher cohort students be changed. The content of the course is relatable and valuable as an elective to all MS in FCS and the MS in Nutrition and Dietetics students.

EFFECTIVE DATE: (i.e.: Fall 20XX, Spring 20XX):

Spring 2016

CURRENT CATALOG COPY:

FCS 5158 - Implications of Childhood Obesity

FCS 5158, Implications of Childhood Obesity, (1-0-1). Investigation of the causes and potential ramifications of childhood obesity in the context of the family unit.

Prerequisites: FCS 2100 or its equivalent

1.000 Credit hours

Levels: Graduate, Post Baccalaureate

Schedule Types: Internet and Meets as Lecture, Internet

PROPOSED CATALOG COPY:

FCS 5158 - Implications of Childhood Obesity

FCS 5158, Implications of Childhood Obesity, (1-0-1). Investigation of the causes and potential ramifications of childhood obesity in the context of the family unit. This course is restricted to MS in Family and Consumer Sciences and MS in Nutrition and Dietetics students. Prerequisites: FCS 2100 or its equivalent.

1.000 Credit hours

Levels: Graduate, Post Baccalaureate

Schedule Types: Internet and Meets as Lecture, Internet

Approved SFCS Curriculum Committee: March 13, 2015