The moral imperative of pursuing excellence for all learners requires courageous educational leaders, who are able to think at high levels of complexity, envision and inspire greatness, adapt to a rapidly changing world and build individual and organizational capacity for continuous improvement. EDL 5892 blends the acquisition of content knowledge and leadership skill development through integrative learning. Integrative learning encourages students to make connections among all aspects of their lives – academic, professional and personal --- and apply learning gained in classes and other experiences to new, complex situations. Students reflect on their new learning and draw connections to previous learning as a student, educator and developing leader. This course employs integrative learning, in a technology enhanced environment, through disciplined inquiry, personal reflection, focused observation, and authentic practice.

PART II: ASSURANCE OF STUDENT LEARNING

- 1. List the student learning objectives of this course: If this is a graduate-level course, indicate which objectives are designed to help students achieve established goals for learning at the graduate level:
 - A. Depth of content knowledge
 - B. Effective critical thinking and problem solving
 - C. Effective oral and written communication
 - D. Advanced scholarship through research or creative activity

Under the direction of a host mentor and a university faculty supervisor, students will demonstrate the following:

- 1. Skills in applying knowledge of administrative practice aligned with the ISLLC Standards (ELCC 7.1-7.6). A, B, C, D
- 2. The capability of assuming and performing tasks required for general school building administration (ELCC 7.1-7.6). A, B, C, D
- 3. The ability to accept genuine responsibility for leading, facilitating, and making decisions typical of those made by educational administrators (ELCC 7.1-7.6) A, B, C, D

- 2. Identify the assignments/activities the instructor will use to determine how well students attained the learning objectives:

The practicum (internship) in the Principal Endorsement Program is a 12-month experience starting in May and concluding the following April. It consists of three, two-credit courses: EDL 5891, EDL 5892, and EDL 5893. The practicum requires students to work directly with their mentor (building principal) observing, participating in, and taking the lead in specific leadership tasks and supervised by a Department of Educational Leadership tenure/track faculty member. The faculty supervisor will conduct a minimum of four face-to-face meetings with the mentor during the year. The faculty supervisor is also responsible for providing feedback on all student assignments. In addition, students will be required to attend a minimum of three seminars (one each term) to discuss issues related to student learning and school improvement arising from the practicum. At the end of each term, the faculty supervisor will work in collaboration with the site mentor to complete an assessment of the student's performance during that term and assign a grade of credit or no credit.

Requirements for the year-long practicum experience include 250 hours (180 logged hours), 12 major projects, 18 activities, and additional activities developed by the mentor, university supervisor, and student to strengthen the student's leadership knowledge and skills. For each term, students must complete 60 logged hours, four major projects, a minimum of six activities, and participate in the on-campus seminar. The requirements are described in further detail below.

Practicum Hours and Logs

The practicum requires the student to work under the supervision of a host administrator for twelve months, generally 6-10 hours per week (250 total hours required) for the entire twelve months. Logging of practicum hours begins with attendance at the orientation session. Prior experiences may not be counted toward actual logged hours. The 250 total hours are exclusive of activities the student would normally engage in during his/her regular teaching or other work assignment. Of the 250 total hours, 180 are clock hours of practicum experiences which are logged and documented, and 70 hours are allocated for research and the writing of required reports for projects and activities. The 70 hours are not logged.

In order to document the practicum hours, students will maintain an electronic log for each week of all practicum activities that is to be printed, signed by the host administrator, and submitted to the university professor. Students must attach supporting documentation for the logged hours to the log sheet. Logged hours can include time practicum students spend in meetings with the university supervisor and the principal. They can also include on-site work on required projects but not research or writing/typing those projects. Logged hours cannot include meetings, parent conferences, or other activities the practicum students would normally engage in during their regular teaching (or other work) assignment. Practicum students may not use bus duty, playground duty, or other supervisory assignments for more than 10 of their 180 clock hours. Leadership workshop and/or conference attendance may be used for a maximum of 6 hours, exclusive of travel time.

Required Projects and Written Reports: The written reports are formal communications between the student, the host principal, and the university supervisor. Therefore, they must be typed, double-spaced, checked for spelling, and should follow proper rules of grammar and APA guidelines. For each project/activity, students are required to submit a written report and supporting documentation to the university supervisor. In each report the student must:

- Identify the project/activity number and description
- Comply with the directives of each project
- Analyze and summarize their experiences on the project
- Reflect on his/her role in the project, what was learned as a result of this project, and how he/she will apply this information as an administrator.

Additional information about the requirements are included in the practicum handbook.

Projects

1. School Improvement Planning: Demonstrate an understanding of the purpose of the school improvement plan and its relationship to the school vision by analyzing and using data, explaining the process through the use of a multi-media presentation, and facilitating a stakeholder group (e.g., faculty meeting, department meeting, parent group, etc.). Based on data, determine the progress of school improvement and recommend the steps needed in the process to support continued enhanced student learning.
2. Hiring Process: Participate in the hiring process including, at a minimum: creation of a job description; creation of interview questions and assessment rubric; participation in interviews for the position; recommendation of the candidate to hire with rationale and data to support the selection; and preparation of letters of rejection for candidates who were not selected.
3. Supervision of Instruction: Conduct three full cycles of clinical supervision including pre-conference, conference, and post-conference. Write a summary utilizing actual notes, observations, discussion, forms, and student achievement data. Provide examples of interventions and support needed for the non-tenured or struggling teacher.

4. Professional Development: In conjunction with stakeholders lead in the development of a professional development plan for a school building that includes (1) data analysis; (2) multiple options for teacher development; and (3) a method for evaluating the plan leading to school improvement.
5. School Culture: Investigate, define, and delineate the systems and factors within your internship school for advocating, nurturing, and sustaining a culture of collaboration, trust, learning, and high expectations and a personalized and motivating learning environment for students.
6. School Finance: Review the school's budget and other school resources with the internship principal. Detail how the resources are typically used; how the resources could be evaluated for adequacy; assessed for effectiveness and efficiency; and give recommendations for improvement. Address specifically the impact of the budget on subgroups such as special education, ELL, and low socio-economic students.
7. Systems Thinking: Investigate, define, and delineate the systems and factors within your internship school for advocating, nurturing, and sustaining a culture of collaboration, trust, learning, and high expectations and a personalized and motivating learning environment for students.
8. Mission: State the mission of the school. Determine and map out the different systems that exist within the school to fulfill the school's mission (i.e., instructional: curriculum, assessment, technology, class structure; and management: discipline plan; attendance; maintenance; transportation, etc.). Delineate an instructional and a management system; create a rating tool that can be used to rate the systems from excellent to needs improvement. Finally, develop recommendations for improvement of aspects of the two systems that need improvement and report the findings to your internship principal.
9. Discipline: Review the discipline policy used at the practicum site, including policies related to discipline of special education students. In the written report, outline the due process procedures used for minor infractions, suspensions and expulsions. Participate with the building administration in five (5) disciplinary conferences. Work with the administration to determine the appropriate consequences. In the written report: (a.) describe the incident (without using the student's name), the administrator/student interactions, and the outcomes; (b.) analyze each incident to determine if district policy was followed; and (c.) describe what you learned.
10. Special Education: Illustrate (outline or flowchart) the procedures for the special education referral process including the RtI process. Illustrate (outline or flowchart) the procedures for 504 referral process. Report the findings of an interview with the School Psychologist regarding all components of a special education evaluation. Participate with school administration in two different IEP conferences. With the IEP team, review each case and discuss best practices and proven learning and motivational theories to aid in the development/review of the IEP. After the IEP meeting, review and discuss the outcomes with the school administrator. In the written report, students are expected to:
 - Describe the location of the meeting, the participants, the purpose of the meeting, the administrator's role, the interactions of the participants, and the outcomes. Do not use the name of the special education student.
 - Describe what they learned
 - Describe the special education/504 services provided to students through the school, the district, the co-op, and any outside agency
 - Describe how your district addresses Least Restrictive Environment (LRE)
11. Equity Audit: Students are expected to conduct an equity audit in their practicum school. This audit addresses areas such as student achievement, Title IX, gender equity, sports, curriculum Clubs (e.g., National Honor Society), and extra-curricular activities. Analyze the data, draw conclusions, and make appropriate policy recommendations, if any.

- 12. Principal Shadowings (and diversity requirement if needed). Students must complete several principal shadowings for a full day while school is in session with students in attendance at each of the following levels:
- Pre-K/Early Childhood
 - Elementary
 - Middle School/Junior High School
 - High School
 - Diversity: If the total minority enrollment (i.e., Black, Hispanic, Asian/Pacific Islander, Native American) is less than 20%, then the practicum student must shadow an administrator for one day in a culturally-diverse site. A student may shadow at a different grade level at a diverse site in order to meet the two requirements simultaneously.

Submit a report outlining your experiences at each site. What new information did you learn? What ideas or activities do you want to continue when you are the administrator? What surprises were there? Compare and contrast the different grade levels and administrative styles of the shadowing experiences.

*In writing-active courses, frequent, brief writing activities and assignments are required. Such activities -- some of which are to be graded -- might include five-minute in-class writing assignments, journal keeping, lab reports, essay examinations, short papers, longer papers, or a variety of other writing-to-learn activities of the instructor's invention. Writing assignments and activities in writing-active courses are designed primarily to assist students in mastering course content, secondarily to strengthen students' writing skills. In writing-intensive courses, several writing assignments and writing activities are required. These assignments and activities, which are to be spread over the course of the semester, serve the dual purpose of strengthening writing skills and deepening understanding of course content. At least one writing assignment is to be revised by the student after it has been read and commented on by the instructor. In writing-intensive courses, students' writing should constitute no less than 35% of the final course grade. In writing-centered courses (English 1001G, English 1002G, and their honors equivalents), students learn the principles and the process of writing in all of its stages, from inception to completion. The quality of students' writing is the principal determinant of the course grade. The minimum writing requirement is 20 pages (5,000 words).
