c. If the mitigation of the disability's functional limitations is accomplished by the animal's presence (rather than a task performed by the animal), please answer the following questions:

i. How close in proximity does the animal have to be to the student for the mitigation to occur (e.g., within sight, within touching distance, within the same room, within earshot of calling the animal's name, same building, etc.)?

ii. How often does the animal need to be in that proximity (e.g., can the animal/student be apart for two hours and then reunited)?

iii. In the absence of this animal, what other steps could be taken to accomplish comparable mitigation of the student's functional limitation (e.g., allowing the student to take periodic breaks, to sit near a friend, etc.)?
