

Alumnus - Kyle Snyders

Alumnus, Kyle Snyders is a fourth generation teacher. Education has always played an important part in his life. Inspired to join the ranks of teachers by his late grandfather, an inspirational mentor and master teacher, Mr. Snyders has always had a curiosity and passion for learning. He began his journey as a teacher at Eastern Illinois University, receiving his Bachelor of Science in Elementary Education in 2006, and returned to his alma mater to receive his Master's of Science with an emphasis in Reading in 2008. Kyle had great success at his time at Eastern. He presented “Using Quality Children’s Literature to Engage Readers and Differentiate Comprehension Instruction” at the 53rd Annual International Reading Association (IRA) Convention in Atlanta, GA and also received awards at the Distinguished Graduate Student Awards Ceremony on April 17, 2008 (pictured above). He has been a first grade teacher and now teaches as a Title I teacher at John Greer Grade School in Hoopston.
