Unit Theme: Educator as a creator of effective educational environment: Integrating students, subjects, strategies, societies and technologies.

Graduate Mission Statement: The Department of Early Childhood, Elementary, and Middle Level Education seeks to advance scholarly preparation by providing quality teaching and promoting excellence in research/creative activity in order for graduate students to exemplify best teaching practices for children from birth through age fourteen.

The Department is dedicated to the preparation of knowledgeable citizens of the 21st century and seeks to empower individuals to meet the challenges faced by professional educators in a rapidly changing society. Candidates for the Master of Science in Education Degree will be prepared to teaching diverse environments recognizing multiple pathways of learning.

The Department is committed to enhancing the graduate academic experience in order to create educators who can function effectively in a culturally diverse, technologically advanced, and global environment in order to engage learning at all levels.

Outcomes for all Graduate Students at Eastern Illinois University:
Graduate students will:
1. possess a depth of content knowledge including effective technology skills and ethical behaviors;
2. engage in critical thinking and problem solving;
3. exhibit effective oral and written communication skills;
4. engage in advanced scholarship through research and/or creative activity;
5. demonstrate an ability to work with diverse clientele, recognizing individual differences; and
6. collaborate and create positive relations within the school, community, and profession in which they work.

Course Description:
Implementing of reading strategies, approaches to instruction, and informal assessment of struggling readers.

Objectives of the Course:
- Develop a desire of lifelong learning in students and personally display one’s own desire for lifelong learning, including self-evaluation skills.
- Demonstrate good communication skills.
- Demonstrate and exhibit compassion to students of all cultures.
- Design instruction to develop and utilize the cognitive process by which students learn.
- Demonstrate knowledge of children’s language acquisition.
- Describe the factors that influence the development of language.
- Demonstrate knowledge of facts and an understanding of fundamental principles, ideas, and relationships among various knowledge domains.
- Demonstrate knowledge of past and present developments, issues, research, and social influences in the field of education.
- Describe cultural influences that are reflected in the history of the English language.
- Demonstrate knowledge of current issues in the language arts domain.

Course Text:
Upper Saddle River, NJ.
Model of Teaching:

Inductive Model: The ability to analyze information and create concepts-inductive thinking-is generally regarded as the fundamental thinking skill. The primary application of the model is to develop thinking capacity. However, in the course of developing thinking capacity, the strategies obviously require students to ingest and process large quantities of information. Inducing students to go beyond the given data is a deliberate attempt to increase productive or creative thinking. Inductive processes thus include the creative processing of information, as well as the convergent use of information to solve problems. (p. 25 & 93)

Course Requirements and Demonstrated Competencies are Aligned with the Standards:
- International Society for Technology in Education (ISTE)  www.iste.org/standards
- Illinois Core Technology Standards: (ICTS)  http://www.isbe.net/profprep/CASCDvr/pdfs/24100_coretechnology.pdf

Course Goals:
- Develop an enduring capacity to care, in particular, about the literacy needs of all students by utilizing the content area classroom as a vehicle for teaching and extending the reading skills to the students you serve.
- Recognize that the vast range of individual differences at the middle and secondary levels requires dedication to acquiring, developing, and pursuing instructional strategies and resources as you become a lifelong learner.

Course Requirements:
1. Attendance/Participation: Attendance and class participation are essential. (5 points will be taken off for each absence.) Students will participate in guided discussions during class, take comprehensive notes, and read the assigned text.

2. Group Work: Small groups will meet during some class sessions to engage students in thoughtful discussion on a variety of group assignments.

3. Reading Strategy Portfolio: In class, students will present content reading strategies and accumulate and assemble at least one strategy for comprehension (Ch. 3), vocabulary (Ch. 6), writing (Ch. 7), a study strategy (Ch. 9), and a graphic organizer. Make a copy of your strategies for each class member and the instructor and present in class the night we discuss each chapter.

4. Conduct a book search and list at least twenty books for your academic content area. Incorporate both fiction and non-fiction literature and picture books. Be sure to address all ability levels of reading when you compile your list of content area books. Prepare a book talk from this list of books. Include in your book talk: a visual, the title, author’s name, summary of the book, genre, and how this book could be used in your content area. Assemble the list of books into a student useable document. (notebook by author/title, card file, student webpage, etc.)

5. Research the importance of teaching reading in the content area. Discuss why the teacher today has a critical responsibility to incorporate a variety of reading strategies to assist all readers in becoming literacy, active, and proficient in the reading process. Write a 2-3-page analysis of this topic using supportive research. Include a bibliography with 5 sources. (APA 5th edition)

6. Locate and compile a minimum of 10 research articles that focus on content area reading skills. Develop an extensive notebook containing meaningful articles about reading in the content area and a bibliography that encompasses appropriate methodology to accommodate students in your classroom:
   a. Struggling reader/proficient reader
   b. High motivation/low level reading books
   c. Technology use to enhance content area reading
   d. Developing skills in test taking in the content area
   e. Books in prize winning categories (Newbery, Michael Printz, Coretta Scott King, Rebecca Caudill, etc.)
f. Fluency
g. Strategies to enhance comprehension
h. Vocabulary development and concept development
i. Motivating students to read
j. Accelerated Reader, Bookadventure.org, Reading Counts and other computer oriented reading programs
k. Assessing readers and their texts
l. Collaborating for literacy and learning: Grouping strategies
m. Motivation in the reading content area
n. Students as responsive learners
o. Uniqueness of the individual reader
p. Use of context clues in reading
q. Structural analysis—word attack
r. Interventions to improve content area reading

7. Examinations: Two major tests that assess students’ comprehensive understanding of course content, assigned reading, classroom presentations and discussions.

PROJECT DESCRIPTIONS:

1. READING STRATEGY PORTFOLIO
   Compile: 1 comprehension strategy, 1 vocabulary strategy, 1 writing strategy, 1 study skills strategy, and one graphic organizer strategy in a notebook format. Add all other class members’ strategies into this notebook. Arrange in tabulated sections with a title page and table of contents in the front of your notebook. (Sign up for your strategies in order avoid duplication.)

2. BOOK SEARCH/BOOK TALK
   Locate at least 20 books for your academic content area.
   Incorporate fiction, non-fiction, picture books, and books for all levels of readers.
   Prepare a book talk using at least 2/3 of these books telling the title, author’s name, summary of the book, genre, and demonstrate how these books could be implemented in your content area. Book talk should use at least one visual.
   Assemble into a format your students can use.

3. IMPORTANCE OF TEACHING READING IN THE CONTENT AREA—ANALYSIS PAPER
   Write a 2/3 page paper using 5 sources on the importance of teaching reading in the content area.
   Include front title page, and reference list (APA).

4. RESEARCH ARTICLES FOCUSING ON CONTENT AREA READING SKILLS
   10 research articles using the suggested format. Include a copy of the article with your review.
   Assemble these into a notebook in alphabetical order by author. Include a title page, a table of contents, and a reference list.
   Example:
   Your name
   Paragraph 1: What the article says.
   Paragraph 2: How you can apply it to your classroom.
   Paragraph 3: Overall critique of the article and why.

5. EXAMS
   Notes and handouts may be used.
   A computer lab may be scheduled for those preferring to type the exam.
