PART II: ASSURANCE OF STUDENT LEARNING

1. List the student learning objectives of this course:

   Upon completion of this course students will be able to:

   1. Independently conduct research.
2. Write a research paper that documents a substantial application of art education theory and practice.

   a. If this is a general education course, indicate which objectives are designed to help students achieve one or more of the following goals of general education and university-wide assessment:
      - EIU graduates will write and speak effectively.
      - EIU graduates will think critically.
      - EIU graduates will function as responsible citizens.

   b. If this is a graduate-level course, indicate which objectives are designed to help students achieve established goals for learning at the graduate level:
      - Depth of content knowledge #1
      - Effective critical thinking and problem solving #1
      - Effective oral and written communication #2
      - Advanced scholarship through research or creative activity #1

2. Identify the assignments/activities the instructor will use to determine how well students attained the learning objectives:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Assignment/Activity</th>
<th>Research Project 100%</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Independently conduct research.</td>
<td>X</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Write a research paper that documents a substantial application of art education theory and practice.</td>
<td>X</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

3. Explain how the instructor will determine students’ grades for the course:

   The instructor will guide the student to develop a master’s research project/paper and prepare the student for its defense. Students will revise their research paper and resubmit for feedback. The defense of the Master’s research is required and ungraded.

4. For technology-delivered and other nontraditional-delivered courses/sections, address the following:
   a. Describe how the format/technology will be used to support and assess students’ achievement of the specified learning objectives:

      Using communication technologies the instructor and students will handle questions as they arise. Student will meet with their advisor on a weekly basis to monitor the progression of the research.

   b. Describe how the integrity of student work will be assured:

      Instructor speaks with students, asks questions about the research to ensure integrity and text from all written assignments will be submitted through a plagiarism identification system. Academic integrity and online courtesy is discussed in the syllabus. Students will also be evaluated through a rigorous assessment. Discussions may use a face-to-face format or use web-conferencing software.
c. Describe provisions for and requirements of instructor-student and student-student interaction, including the kinds of technologies that will be used to support the interaction (e.g., e-mail, web-based discussions, computer conferences, etc.):

Student and instructor interactions will use a combination of technologically delivered discussion threads, real-time discussion, web-conferencing (virtual classroom with audio/video and white board support), email, social networks, blogs, social bookmarking, and online interactive galleries.

5. For courses numbered 4750-4999, specify additional or more stringent requirements for students enrolling for graduate credit. These include:
   a. course objectives;
   b. projects that require application and analysis of the course content; and
   c. separate methods of evaluation for undergraduate and graduate students.

6. If applicable, indicate whether this course is writing-active, writing-intensive, or writing-centered, and describe how the course satisfies the criteria for the type of writing course identified. (See Appendix *.)

PART III: OUTLINE OF THE COURSE

Provide a week-by-week outline of the course’s content. Specify units of time (e.g., for a 3-0-3 course, 45 fifty-minute class periods over 15 weeks) for each major topic in the outline. Provide clear and sufficient details about content and procedures so that possible questions of overlap with other courses can be addressed. For technology-delivered or other nontraditional-delivered courses/sections, explain how the course content “units” are sufficiently equivalent to the traditional on-campus semester hour units of time described above.

In Art 5970 students will conduct individualized research, meeting with the instructor of record weekly. The instructor will evaluate the work in progress and provide substantive written feedback, guide the study and the research project, facilitate the IRB and permission paperwork, advise the student regarding deadlines and procedures for submission of the project, communicate regularly with the Director of the program and the Academic Advisor about the student’s progress.

Student and instructor interactions will use a combination of technologically delivered discussion threads, real-time discussion, web-conferencing (virtual classroom with audio/video and white board support), email, social networks, blogs, social bookmarking, and online interactive galleries.

Week 1: Professor and student work out a timeline for research and refine the research questions.
Weeks 2-3: Further develop and refine literature review from ART 5800 and submit.
Weeks 3-4: Establish protocols for permissions and instruments for research.
Weeks 5-6: Pilot studies and early findings.
Weeks 7-12: Refine research plan. Begin data gathering for final research.
Weeks 13-15: Completion of final paper and prepare for defense.

PART IV: PURPOSE AND NEED
1. Explain the department’s rationale for developing and proposing the course.

This is a revision of a course that has been part of the curriculum since the MA in Art with Art Education Option program began in 2004. Course revisions are aligned with other MA in Art with Art Education Option curriculum revisions and the MA in Art with Community Arts Option being proposed simultaneously.

   a. If this is a general education course, you also must indicate the segment of the general education program into which it will be placed, and describe how the course meets the requirements of that segment.
   b. If the course or some sections of the course may be technology delivered, explain why.

A technology delivered section will make the course available to persons outside of EIU who do not have the ability to come to campus due to employment or geographic location.

2. Justify the level of the course and any course prerequisites, co-requisites, or registration restrictions.

Art 5970 is a graduate-level art education course and students are expected to complete graduate-level coursework. Art 5970 is a required course open only to students enrolled in either the MA in Art with Art Education Option or MA in Art with Community Arts Option.

3. If the course is similar to an existing course or courses, justify its development and offering.

Art 5970 is not similar to any other course.

   a. If the contents substantially duplicate those of an existing course, the new proposal should be discussed with the appropriate chairpersons, deans, or curriculum committees and their responses noted in the proposal.
   b. Cite course(s) to be deleted if the new course is approved. If no deletions are planned, note the exceptional need to be met or the curricular gap to be filled.

4. Impact on Program(s):

   a. For undergraduate programs, specify whether this course will be required for a major or minor or used as an approved elective.
   b. For graduate programs, specify whether this course will be a core requirement for all candidates in a degree or certificate program or an approved elective.

Art 5970 is a required course for graduate students seeking the Master of Arts in Art with Art Education Option and the Master of Arts in Art with Community Arts Option.

If the proposed course changes a major, minor, or certificate program in or outside of the department, you must submit a separate proposal requesting that change along with the course proposal. Provide a copy of the existing program in the current catalog with the requested changes noted.

PART V: IMPLEMENTATION
1. Faculty member(s) to whom the course may be assigned:

    Patricia Belleville or other qualified graduate art education faculty members.

    If this is a graduate course and the department does not currently offer a graduate program, it must document that it employs faculty qualified to teach graduate courses.

2. Additional costs to students:

    There will be no additional costs to students.

    Include those for supplemental packets, hardware/software, or any other additional instructional, technical, or technological requirements. (Course fees must be approved by the President’s Council.)

3. Text and supplementary materials to be used (Include publication dates):

    None.

PART VI: COMMUNITY COLLEGE TRANSFER

If the proposed course is a 1000- or 2000-level course, state either, "A community college course may be judged equivalent to this course" OR "A community college course will not be judged equivalent to this course." A community college course will not be judged equivalent to a 3000- or 4000-level course but may be accepted as a substitute; however, upper-division credit will not be awarded.

PART VII: APPROVALS

Date approved by the department or school:  March 1, 2013

Date approved by the college curriculum committee:  April 5, 2013

Date approved by the Honors Council (if this is an honors course):

Date approved by CAA:  Not applicable                  CGS:  April 30, 2013

*In writing-active courses, frequent, brief writing activities and assignments are required. Such activities -- some of which are to be graded -- might include five-minute in-class writing assignments, journal keeping, lab reports, essay examinations, short papers, longer papers, or a variety of other writing-to-learn activities of the instructor's invention. Writing assignments and activities in writing-active courses are designed primarily to assist students in mastering course content, secondarily to strengthen students' writing skills. In writing-intensive courses, several writing assignments and writing activities are required. These assignments and activities, which are to be spread over the course of the semester, serve the dual purpose of strengthening writing skills and deepening understanding of course content. At least one writing assignment is to be revised by the student after it has been read and commented on by the instructor. In writing-intensive courses, students’ writing should constitute no less than 35% of the final course grade. In writing-centered courses (English 1001G, English 1002G, and their honors equivalents), students learn the principles and the process of writing in all of its stages, from inception to completion. The quality of students' writing is the principal determinant of the course grade. The minimum writing requirement is 20 pages (5,000 words).
