PART II: ASSURANCE OF STUDENT LEARNING

1. List the student learning objectives of this course:

- a) Identify and describe the major events in the transition from forms of monarchy, aristocracy, imperialism to mass democracy

- b) Explain and analyze the relationship of revolutionary movements—whether in the form of popular revolts or anti-imperial movements—to the rise of mass democracy.
- c) Introduce students to interdisciplinary studies and the use of primary sources.
- d) Synthesize information from a variety of primary and secondary sources into written assignments.

a. If this is a general education course, indicate which objectives are designed to help students achieve one or more of the following goals of general education and university-wide assessment:

- EIU graduates will write and speak effectively.
- EIU graduates will think critically.
- EIU graduates will function as responsible citizens.
  1. Written exams and primary source analyses will help students to write effectively. (GE)
  2. Discussion groups will help students learn to speak effectively. (GE)
  3. Interpreting and analyzing primary and secondary sources will hone students' critical thinking skills. (GE)
  4. Interpreting the origins and development of the mass democracies will help students understand mutual (mis)understanding between differing cultures, thus preparing them for responsible global citizenship. (GE)
  5. Comparing and contrasting diverse people in global context will develop cultural awareness in students (including issues of cultural distinctiveness and difference, i.e., ethnicity, race, gender, sexual orientation, disability) and prepare them to function as responsible global citizens. (GE)

b. If this is a graduate-level course, indicate which objectives are designed to help students achieve established goals for learning at the graduate level:

- Depth of content knowledge
- Effective critical thinking and problem solving
- Effective oral and written communication
- Advanced scholarship through research or creative activity

n/a

2. Identify the assignments/activities the instructor will use to determine how well students attained the learning objectives:

Examinations
Primary Source Analyses
Research Paper
Class Participation

3. Explain how the instructor will determine students' grades for the course:

Student achievement of the stated objectives [including GE objectives] will be evaluated based on the following activities and grades assigned according to the given percentages:

	Examinations (3) 60% (20% each)	Primary source analyses (10%)	Research Paper (20%)	Class Participation (10%)
Writing Effectively	X	X	X
Speaking Effectively				X
Critical Thinking	X	X	X	X

Responsible Citizen	X		X	X
Analyzing primary and secondary sources	X	X	X	X
Interpreting the origins and development of conceptions of civil rights	X	X	X	X
Comparing and contrasting diverse people in global context	X		X	X

4. For technology-delivered and other nontraditional-delivered courses/sections, address the following:
  - a. Describe how the format/technology will be used to support and assess students' achievement of the specified learning objectives:
  - b. Describe how the integrity of student work will be assured:
  - c. Describe provisions for and requirements of instructor-student and student-student interaction, including the kinds of technologies that will be used to support the interaction (e.g., e-mail, web-based discussions, computer conferences, etc.):

5. For courses numbered 4750-4999, specify additional or more stringent requirements for students enrolling for graduate credit. These include:
  - a. course objectives;
  - b. projects that require application and analysis of the course content; and
  - c. separate methods of evaluation for undergraduate and graduate students.

n/a

6. If applicable, indicate whether this course is writing-active, writing-intensive, or writing-centered, and describe how the course satisfies the criteria for the type of writing course identified. (See Appendix *.)

Writing-Intensive. The course includes three written examinations which account for 60% of the final grade and a research paper which accounts for 20% of the final grade. The research paper includes the provision for it to be revised after commented upon by the instructor.

PART III: OUTLINE OF THE COURSE

Provide a week-by-week outline of the course's content. Specify units of time (e.g., for a 3-0-3 course, 45 fifty-minute class periods over 15 weeks) for each major topic in the outline. Provide clear and sufficient details about content and procedures so that possible questions of overlap with other courses can be addressed. For technology-delivered or other nontraditional-delivered courses/sections, explain how the course content "units" are sufficiently equivalent to the traditional on-campus semester hour units of time described above.

Sample course schedule

- Week 1. Monarchies in Europe in the 18th century. Absolutism in France and Spain. The Constitutional Monarchy of Great Britain.
- Week 2. Monarchical rule in the colonial world during the 18th century. Emperors, Viceroys and Governors in the Third World.

- Week 14. The End of European Colonialism in Asia and Africa. Democracy and Dictatorship.
- Week 15. The End of the Cold War. And (Another Turn) to Representative Democracies.

PART IV: PURPOSE AND NEED

1. Explain the department’s rationale for developing and proposing the course.

HIS 1593G is being developed as part of an overhaul of the World History component of the General Education curriculum. The shift is away from broad, undefined survey courses and toward defined surveys around specific historical topics or issues in world history. The narrower focus will permit these courses to better develop critical thinking skills and model historical interpretation by concentration on a set of specific issues appropriate to the given topic. The courses will also better alert students toward the specific themes of a given courses, allowing students to select topics that will more directly engage their interests.

HIS 1593G in particular focuses on issues of civil rights, politicization, and social order. Such a focus allows students to engage directly with issues about political organization that have deeply shaped the development of all governments and permits comparative perspectives on how civil rights and representative mass democracies provide a foundation for the emergence of modern society.

a. If this is a general education course, you also must indicate the segment of the general education program into which it will be placed, and describe how the course meets the requirements of that segment.

HIS 1593G is part of the general education curriculum under the “Humanities” section of the Humanities and Fine Arts segment for the following reasons:

1. History is a Humanities discipline located in the College of Arts and Humanities.
2. HIS 1593G focuses on reading and interpreting historical sources and data within the tradition of humanistic scholarship.

b. If the course or some sections of the course may be technology delivered, explain why.

2. Justify the level of the course and any course prerequisites, co-requisites, or registration restrictions.

HIS 1593G is general education course that requires no prerequisites.

3. If the course is similar to an existing course or courses, justify its development and offering.

a. If the contents substantially duplicate those of an existing course, the new proposal should be discussed with the appropriate chairpersons, deans, or curriculum committees and their responses noted in the proposal.

b. Cite course(s) to be deleted if the new course is approved. If no deletions are planned, note the exceptional need to be met or the curricular gap to be filled.

HIS 1593G is a revision of HIS 1592G, which is to be deleted from the curriculum.

4. Impact on Program(s):

a. For undergraduate programs, specify whether this course will be required for a major or minor or used as an approved elective.

n/a b. For graduate programs, specify whether this course will be a core requirement for all candidates in a degree or certificate program or an approved elective.

n/a

If the proposed course changes a major, minor, or certificate program in or outside of the department, you must submit a separate proposal requesting that change along with the course proposal. Provide a copy of the existing program in the current catalog with the requested changes noted.

PART V: IMPLEMENTATION

1. Faculty member(s) to whom the course may be assigned:

José Deustua, David K. Smith, and any other qualified faculty

2. Additional costs to students: None

Include those for supplemental packets, hardware/software, or any other additional instructional, technical, or technological requirements. (Course fees must be approved by the President's Council.)

3. Text and supplementary materials to be used (Include publication dates):

Duiker and Spielvogel, World History, 4th ed. (2004)

Andrea and Overfield, The Human Record. Sources of Global History, 7th ed. (2011)

PART VI: COMMUNITY COLLEGE TRANSFER

If the proposed course is a 1000- or 2000-level course, state either, "A community college course may be judged equivalent to this course" OR "A community college course will not be judged equivalent to this course." A community college course will not be judged equivalent to a 3000- or 4000-level course but may be accepted as a substitute; however, upper-division credit will not be awarded.

A community college course may be judged equivalent to this course

PART VII: APPROVALS

Date approved by the department or school: 10/13/11

Date approved by the college curriculum committee: 11/16/11

Date approved by the Honors Council (if this is an honors course): 2/16/12

Date approved by CAA: 3/8/12

*In writing-active courses, frequent, brief writing activities and assignments are required. Such activities -- some of which are to be graded -- might include five-minute in-class writing assignments, journal keeping, lab reports, essay examinations, short papers, longer papers, or a variety of other writing-to-learn activities of the instructor's invention. Writing assignments and activities in writing-active courses are designed primarily to assist students in mastering course content, secondarily to strengthen students' writing skills. In writing-intensive courses, several writing assignments and writing activities are required. These assignments and activities, which are to be spread over the course of the semester, serve the dual purpose of strengthening writing skills and deepening understanding of course content. At least one writing assignment is to be revised by the student after it has been read and commented on by the instructor. In writing-intensive courses, students' writing should constitute no less than 35% of the final course grade. In writing-centered courses (English 1001G, English 1002G, and their honors equivalents), students learn the principles and the process of writing in all of its stages, from inception to completion. The quality of students' writing is the principal determinant of the course grade. The minimum writing requirement is 20 pages (5,000 words).
