

ENG 1001 Challenge Essay

If you have been placed into English 1000 and would like an opportunity to challenge this placement in order to be placed in College Composition I (English 1001), you can complete an essay to be evaluated by the Composition Committee, before the start of the semester.

Typically, the Challenge Essay is a paper that focuses on rhetorical analysis, one of the most common writing assignments in college composition courses. Once writers have been sent the materials to do the Challenge Essay, they have a specified amount of time to submit the paper to the Director of Composition.

If you have been placed into ENG 1000 and would like to take the Challenge Essay prior to the start of the semester, please contact Tim N. Taylor, Director of Composition, at tntaylor@eiu.edu.
