Hello Everyone, Greetings of the day!

My given name is Niharika. I am fascinated to apply for leadership positions which are going to held in our EIU school. In my previous professional life, I was a senior technical assistant for the Tech-Mahindra organization (back in India).

I used to teach my co-workers, how to do their individual jobs on time in order to uphold the company's reputation and mission. Our business will make an effort to fulfil the needs and preferences of its customers. My co-workers will teach me something new, and that is what I need. Everyone on the team needs to work harder in order to achieve the goals.

I learned what leadership is. It is the process of managing a group or business. These qualities define an excellent leader. Much focusing on developing both their emotional and cerebral faculties. And also attentive to the team's other players. Encourage co-workers to take part in team or project activities. A true leader combines management and leadership skills in equal proportion.

That is the reason, much passionate to be a part of this leadership association.

Thank you & Regards,
