Changing Fourth Graders’ Discourse on Parallelograms

Abstract:

We will discuss Sfard’s (2008) features of discourse (word use, visual mediators, routines, and narratives) and describe how they informed the design of a sequence of short geometry tasks in a fourth grade classroom. This task sequence led students to refine the ways they talked and reasoned about parallelograms.