

department of music
EASTERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY

STUDENT RECITAL SERIES

presents a

General Recital

December 9, 2022, 2:00 p.m.
Doudna Fine Arts Center
Recital Hall

Duo Concertant

Emily Dooley, clarinet
Ethan Hayward, piano

Darius Milhaud
(1892-1974)

Lachen und Wienen

Laughing or weeping at any hour
Is a part of love for so many reasons.
In the morning, I laughed for joy:
And why do I now weep
In the evening's glow,
I myself don't even know.
Weeping or laughing at any hour
Is a part of love for so many reasons.
In the evening, I wept out of grief;
And why can you (my heart) wake up
In the morning with laughter,
I must ask you, oh my heart.

Charlotte Hedberg, soprano
Ethan Hayward, piano

Caro mio ben

Sommer Jones, soprano
Ethan Hayward, piano

Giuseppe Giordani
(1751-1798)

"The Ballad of Jane Doe" from Ride the Cyclone

Brittany Kelley, soprano
Ethan Hayward, piano

Jacob Richmond
and Brooke Maxwell

That's A Plenty

Lew Pollack
Arr. Paul Nagle and Bill Holcombe
Ed. James M. Pyne

Maura Daly, Ethan Steber, Leila Hanley, Hope Eagan, Janiya Fair, and Magie Beck, soprano clarinets

Sean Haynes and Emily Dooley, bass clarinets