

Special Education Cohort Survey

Are you interested in obtaining your Special Education Degree? If you have an associate degree of arts (or be very close) this could be for you.

Eastern Illinois University is working with the Eastern Illinois Area Special Education to identify paraprofessionals, long-term substitute teachers, and other related non-traditional candidates that are interested in becoming licensed special education teachers in the EIASE region

Required:

Candidates should have an Associate of Arts degree (or be very close) with general education courses that can be transferred to EIU.

Financial Aid:

We currently have a grant from the Illinois Board of Higher Education that allows us to offer a limited number of forgivable loans up to $25,000 for tuition and fees (does not cover all costs).

Format:

Generally, 3 years long and offered hybrid/online program for EIASE region.
