III. ACTION ITEMS

A. Approval of Minutes

September 3, 2010 Board Meeting
B. Executive Session Minutes – Open Meetings Act

Section 2.06(c) of the Open Meetings Act requires that the Board of Trustees review the minutes of all executive sessions at least semi-annually to determine whether the need for confidentiality still exists as to all or part of those minutes. Minutes of executive sessions, or portions thereof, which no longer require confidential treatment must be made available for public inspection.

In order to comply with this provision, Board Counsel is reviewing executive session minutes and will provide the Board recommendations as to whether or not all or part of those minutes should remain confidential.

D. Out-of-State Tuition

As we know, the university is increasingly becoming enrollment sensitive. This past year the number of new freshmen admits was relatively stable, but the yield declined significantly. One way to offset this decline is to increase the number of admitted students by aggressively attracting out-of-state students. This past year, Indiana State University increased its applicant pool by approximately one thousand individuals due in part to offering Illinois applicants in-state tuition. This is a significant competitive edge for ISU because the Indiana in-state tuition level is approximately $2000/year lower than the in-state rate for an Illinois student at Eastern. ISU is now cheaper for an Illinois resident than Eastern.

Clearly, we must do everything we can to increase the number of Illinois residents who apply to Eastern, but with out-of-state institutions becoming very aggressive in recruiting our students, we need to consider doing more. The data below shows what other Illinois public universities are doing with their out-of-state tuition rates.

Illinois State's out-of-state rate is 1.5 times their in-state rate. It has been gradually decreasing in recent years.

SIUC offers in-state tuition to students from MO, KY, IN, TN and AK.

SIUE offers a special rate that is 1.2 times the in-state rate for MO residents with a minimum 23 ACT.

NIU's out-of-state rate is approximately 1.75 times the in-state rate.

WIU offers their in-state rate to residents of IA, IN, MO, WI. Students from other states pay 1.5 times the in-state.

UIC (Chicago) assesses a rate of 2.3 times the in-state rate to out-of-state residents.

UIUC assesses a rate of approximately 2.3 times the in-state rate as well.

Indiana State offers the Illinois Student Scholarship to entering freshmen and transfer students as well as the Kentucky and midwest consortium scholarship. Illinois freshmen need a 2.75 GPA to qualify and receive the in-state rate. No ACT or SAT requirement. There is no limit to the number of these scholarships and they can stack additional awards for qualifying students. The Illinois Student Scholarship is renewable.

Currently, Eastern assesses out-of-state undergraduates a tuition rate of 1.0 times the in-state rate for undergraduates from any state who meet the Honors College admissions standard. All other students are assessed tuition at 3.0 times the in-state rate. These students are highly sought after by Eastern and other universities, and we would like to increase our yield in this area. The Terre Haute area and the metropolitan St. Louis area are natural recruiting areas for Eastern to explore. It is also worth noting that the out-of-state tuition level for students who do not meet the honors criteria - 3.0 times the prevailing in-state rate - is higher than other Illinois public institutions.

In order to increase our ability to recruit out-of-state undergraduate students, President Perry recommends a reduction in the tuition rate for residents of Kentucky, Iowa, Indiana, Missouri, and Wisconsin from the current rate of 3.0 times the in-state rates to 1.0 times the in-state rate.

It is recommended that the Board of Trustees approve the tuition rate change for undergraduate students from Kentucky, Iowa, Indiana, Missouri, and Wisconsin from 3.0 times the in-state rate to 1.0 times the in-state rate.
E. Personnel Action

The Board is asked to consider granting faculty rank in the Department of Art at the level of Assistant Professor for Mr. Robert Michael (Mike) Watts, Director of Tarble Arts Center.

This is consistent with Board of Trustees Regulation II.B.3.a. This action is endorsed unanimously by the tenured/tenure-track faculty of the Department of Art as reported by Mr. Glenn Hild, Chairperson of the Department. The recommendation also is endorsed by both Mr. James Johnson, former Dean of the College of Arts and Humanities and Dr. Bonnie Irwin, current Dean of the College of Arts and Humanities.

Mr. Watts hold a M.F.A. awarded by the University of Texas at Austin and thereby meets the University’s educational requirements for designation of faculty rank at the level of Assistant Professor as specified in Internal Governing Policy #30, Educational Requirements for Faculty Rank.

Mr. Watts is an administrative and professional employee and has served as Director of the Tarble Arts Center since January 15, 1986. This recommendation is for designation of faculty rank only and does not establish a faculty tenure-track line in the Department of Art or at the University for Mr. Watts.

It is recommended that the Board of Trustees grant faculty rank at the level of Assistant Professor to Mr. Robert Michael (Mike) Watts, Director of the Tarble Arts Center.

AROUND CAMPUS

'EI&U: The Campaign for Eastern' begins. About 270 of Eastern's most generous alumni and friends gathered on campus on Homecoming weekend to officially kick off "EI&U: The Campaign for Eastern," a university-wide capital campaign designed to raise $50 million for student, faculty, facility and program support. "Through this campaign, you and I have an opportunity to change students' lives and help shape their dreams," said BOT member Julie Nimmons, who is serving as campaign chairwoman. "By being a part of this campaign, you and I can continue to expect greatness of ourselves and demonstrate our appreciation to the university which impacted us."

Economy a likely factor in lower enrollment. Fall 2010 enrollment numbers at EIU seem to suggest that the economy is keeping students close to home – at least for the first two years of their higher education. Enrollment is 11,630 (10,511 on-campus, and 1,119 off-campus), down from 11,966 last fall. "We know that economic conditions are making it difficult for some families to afford to send their children to a university," said Blair Lord, provost and vice president for academic affairs. "More and more students are beginning their college careers by attending their local community colleges and taking the general education courses that will later be required of them to graduate from a university such as Eastern. And because Eastern is a transfer-friendly institution, we know we will be seeing many of these young men and women as they enter their junior years." Minority student enrollment continues to be strong (1,922 this year, up from 1,783 in Fall 2009), with minority students now making up 16.52 percent of total enrollment. In addition, international-student enrollment rose to 152, up from 134 a year ago.

Experts speak about Asia-Pacific region. Policy makers and other experts discussed war and peace in the Asia-Pacific region during several events hosted by the EIU Public Policy Institute Sept. 30. Raymond Burghardt, chairman of the American Institute in Taiwan, spoke about the 2011 APEC Summit that he is helping to organize, as well as security issues involving the Asia-Pacific region. Two panel discussions, "Perilous Strait: Continuing Taiwan-China Crisis" and "Security and Economic Development in Asia," included Charles Salmon Jr., foreign policy director of the Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies of the U.S. Pacific Command; Perry Shen, Taiwan consul general in Chicago; and scholars from regional universities.

National science leader visits campus. Linda Birnbaum, the nationally lauded director of the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences and the National Toxicology Program, visited EIU on Oct. 26. She presented a lecture on research, "A Good Start Lasts a Lifetime"; served as the keynote speaker for the EIU Women in Science and Mathematics "You Can Have It All" program for female EIU students; and met with students and faculty throughout the day. Birnbaum was recently elected to the National Academy of Sciences' Institute of Medicine, considered one of the highest honors in the fields of health and medicine.

Exhibit explores history of education in Illinois. "Teachers Tame the Prairie: Vignettes of Eastern Illinois University and Education in Illinois," an exhibit created by the faculty and staff of Booth Library, provides a historical look at the training of teachers and normal schools in Illinois, including an overview of school life in Illinois. In addition to the wealth of information gleaned from the materials housed in University Archives and Special Collections, the project also involves Illinois residents who have provided stories and artifacts related to their school experiences. Related programming is also being offered to coincide with the reaccreditation visit of EIU's College of Education and Professional Studies by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education. The exhibition will be on display in the Marvin Foyer of Booth Library through Dec. 10.

Provost buys home with historic EIU ties. The longtime home of EIU's first president, Livingston Lord, is back in the hands of an EIU administrator. Blair Lord, provost and vice president for academic affairs, recently purchased the late Victorian-era house at 838 Seventh St. The once-neglected property has come a long way since being deemed a hazard by the city in 2007. In 2008, it was purchased by Tom and Salisa Olmsted of Painted Lady Properties, who restored it with a careful eye to its historical significance. Livingston Lord, who served as Eastern's president from 1899 to 1933, is thought to have resided in the house from 1903 until his death in 1933.

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

Students collect 6 tons of recyclables. "EIU Blue Goes Green," a Homecoming event designed to promote on-campus recycling, collected 6.31 tons of recyclable materials on the Library Quad, up from 2.5 tons collected in last year's event. For every ton collected, EIU's Student Community Service will donate 10 trees to be planted on Panther Service Day in April. Residence halls, registered student organizations and greek organizations competed for points during the event; Alpha Gamma Delta and Sigma Phi Epsilon were the winners.

WEIU earns more regional, state honors. For the second year in a row, WEIU-TV's "News Watch" has won a Mid-America Emmy for Student Production News. WEIU-TV and WEIU-FM also fared well at the Illinois Broadcasters Association Student Silver Dome Awards, with students winning seven first-place awards, two second-place awards and four third-place awards.

Students, alumnus create sign for state park. Lynn Grigg, an EIU art alumnus who works for Fox Ridge State Park south of Charleston, joined forces with the EIU School of Technology to save taxpayers money by creating a lower-cost entrance sign for the state park. Students Francisco Fuentes and Kyle Kuenster cut Grigg's fox, tree and white oak leaf designs out of metal using a plasma cutter. Materials were purchased by the Fox Ridge Foundation. "We're very pleased with the results of this. It gave us an improvement that is very visible to the public," the foundation president, Marc Carlton, told the Charleston Times-Courier.
FACULTY/STAFF NEWS

Izadi named interim dean of LCBAS. Mahyar Izadi has been named interim dean of EIU's Lumpkin College of Business and Applied Sciences, effective Oct. 1. Izadi, who arrived at Eastern in 1984, replaced Diane Hoadley, who recently accepted the role of dean of the College of Business at the University of Wisconsin at Eau Claire. For the past 11 years, Izadi has served as chair of EIU's School of Technology, with the number of faculty and students in that area nearly doubling during his tenure. Previously, he served as coordinator of the Industrial Technology Program. A permanent dean is expected to be in place near July 1, 2011.

Davidson honored with national award. Eric S. Davidson, EIU Health Services associate director and Illinois Higher Education Center project director, was honored with the "Outstanding Contribution to the Field" award by the Network Addressing Collegiate Alcohol and Other Drug Issues at the U.S. Department of Education National Meeting on Alcohol, Other Drug Abuse and Violence Prevention in Higher Education. Award criteria include actively promoting proven strategies and approaches for reducing alcohol, other drug abuse and violence on college campuses; and making contributions to the field that have moved it in a new direction.

Site uses 'Seinfeld' clips to illustrate economics. Two EIU employees have gotten national attention for their creative use of "Seinfeld" clips to illustrate various economic principles on their website, "The Economics of Seinfeld." The site, located at www.yadayadayadaecon.com, is operated by Linda S. Ghent, chair of the EIU economics department; George Lesica, assistant to the dean of the EIU College of Sciences; and an economics faculty member from Baker University. Several blogs, including blogs on The Economist and The Wall Street Journal, wrote about the site in October. "Using these clips (as well as clips from other television shows or movies) makes economic concepts come alive, making them more real for students," the site states. "Ultimately, students will start seeing economics everywhere – in other TV shows, in popular music, and most importantly, in their own lives."

ALUMNI ACTIVITIES

Breast cancer survivor forms Write to Heal support group. As a breast cancer survivor, Nia Klein '10 knew how powerful the written word was in helping her cope. That's why, as a graduate student at EIU, she founded Write to Heal, a therapeutic writing program she continues to lead for patients at Mills Breast Cancer Institute. "The whole reason I came down to Eastern for graduate school is this therapeutic writing generated an interest in global writing for me," the Urbana resident said, adding that she wanted to learn more about what makes writing so powerful and how it could be used in other ways. "The whole process for me was enhanced and augmented by the English department at Eastern," Klein said. "They've been so supportive."

FOCUS ON ATHLETICS

EIU women's basketball leads OVC preseason poll; men's team is third. The EIU women's basketball team has been picked to win the 2010-11 Ohio Valley Conference women's basketball title in a preseason poll of the league's head coaches and sports information directors. Last season, the women's team earned a 23-11 record, its first OVC regular-season title, and its third straight trip to the OVC tournament championship game. The EIU men's basketball squad, which went 19-12 last season, was projected to finish third in the OVC.

Punter gets national recognition. EIU senior punter Kevin Cook was named the Sports Network/Fathead.com National Special Teams Player of the Week following his efforts in the Panthers game against Southeast Missouri. Cook averaged 50.2 yards per punt on four attempts, including an 86-yarder, which was the longest in Eastern Illinois NCAA Division I history and was just 7 yards shy of the longest in NCAA history.

Payton returns to campus to see jersey retired. Sean Payton returned to O'Brien Field to see his No. 18 Panthers jersey retired during the football team's home opener against Central Arkansas on Sept. 11. Payton graciously spoke to fans and posed for photos during his visit. As a quarterback at EIU from 1983-86, Payton helped guide the Panthers to the NCAA FCS quarterfinals in 1986. Payton, who is now in his fifth year as head coach of the New Orleans Saints, was named the NFL Coach of the Year in 2006. Last season, he led the Saints to their first Super Bowl victory.

EIU alumni listed among top NFL coaches. Three EIU alumni were ranked among the National Football League's best head coaches by the Sporting News magazine at the beginning of the season. Payton, coach of the New Orleans Saints, was ranked No. 2; Washington Redskins head coach Shanahan was ranked No. 4; and EIU alumnus Brad Childress, coach of the Minnesota Vikings, was ranked No. 14.
