    vii. Per the President’s request, Jackie is working with CampusSpeak to bring in Angela Rose the first week of September to provide an afternoon Keynote for campus and two evening trainings; one for athletes and one for Greeks.
        1. Heather Webb suggested that once the trainings are set, that the information be sent out to the listserv for advisors of Greek chapters so that the advisors can remind their chapter members to attend the training.
    viii. Sexual Assault Talk Show - HERC collaborating with Theater dept to offer skit in the Fall, and if it’s successful, to offer it again in the Spring.
ix. “Run-through” with Eric Savickas and Military Science Dept - Eric will be back on campus sometime this month; plans to develop the “run-through” this summer and pilot with his dept this Fall. If this is successful, we could use this exercise with other academic depts on campus.

d. D2L Sexual Assault Training - IT recently sent a version of the training in a new platform to Jackie for review. IT continues to work on the training so that it will be ready by the end of July. The new platform will allow separation of students from faculty/staff and will allow for tracking of completion.
   i. Heather Webb asked if it will be possible to look up an individual to see the date that they completed the training. Jackie plans to check with IT to make sure this will be possible.

c. Heather noted that a link to Student Standards code of conduct is broken on the Sexual Assault website. Jackie plans to make the change to the website so it’s no longer broken. She will also add a link to the Students Standards’ online reporting form for sexual assault and interpersonal violence.

norms survey research in classes.

i. Would someone from the social norms workgroup be willing to draft the memo? Eric Davidson and Katie Bass, who lead the social norms workgroup, plan to send a memo along with a copy of the survey once its completed.

c. Publicize the various programs and positive efforts that the task force and campus are making toward sexual assault prevention

i. Would it be helpful to have a designated person on the task force and/or a small workgroup that helps with publicizing this work across campus and the community? Liz Edwards, who works in Media Relations, offered to be the person on the committee to help publicize events. As events are coming up, Liz will touch base with the person organizing them to gather information and put it out to the university.

ii. Are there various facebook pages and twitter pages on campus that would be willing to publicize events that the task force is sponsoring? Task force members suggested the following pages: Housing, Rec Center, New Student Programs, the main EIU pages (which Liz oversees), Student Standards
(which Heather oversees), Counseling and Student Development, HERC (which Amanda and Melany will help with).

1. Members discussed the idea of having twitter and facebook pages for the task force and then posting about upcoming events and having the aforementioned pages follow ours, then retweet or share our posts about events. Jackie agreed to look into this and asked for assistance from other members who are more familiar with social media. Eric agreed to assist Jackie with this.

streamlining the reporting process for survivors
